

FOR RECEPTION OF FLEET

Many Warships Lie Off the Virginia Capes Awaiting Arrival of Big Atlantic Battleship Fleet.

Special to the Herald.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 20.—A mighty fleet of warships is lying off the Virginia capes today in readiness for the great naval parade and review next Monday, when the sixteen battleships of Rear Admiral Sperry's fleet, accompanied by the welcoming squadron of half a dozen battleships and cruisers under the command of Rear Admiral Arnold, will steam into Hampton Roads, to again ride the wind-rippled waters where they weighed anchor on the memorable sixteenth of December, 1907, and departed on the remarkable cruise around the world.

The arrival of the fleet will be a much more imposing spectacle than was the departure. When the fleet sailed out into the broad Atlantic over a year ago there were sixteen battleships in the column that passed in review before the president. On Monday there will be more than a score of battleships in the naval parade, besides several cruisers and smaller naval craft. The Alabama, one of the sixteen battleships that departed from Hampton Roads, will be missing. The new ships that will be in line will be the Nebraska, never before in the Atlantic; the Wisconsin, the New Hampshire, the Idaho, the Mississippi, the Montana, the North Carolina, and the Chester, Salem and Birmingham, the three new sister scout cruisers.

The order in which the battleships and cruisers under Rear Admiral Sperry will pass in review before the president is as follows:

Connecticut, flagship of Rear Admiral Sperry, Capt. Osterhaus.
Kansas, Capt. Vreeland.
Vermont, Capt. Fletcher.
Minnesota, Capt. Hubbard.
Georgia, flagship of Rear Admiral Wainwright, Capt. Potter.
Nebraska, Capt. Nicholson.
New Jersey, Capt. Sutherland.
Rhode Island, Capt. Murdock.
Louisiana, flagship of Rear Admiral Schroeder, Capt. Niles.
Virginia, Capt. Sharp.
Ohio, Capt. Howard.
Missouri, Capt. Doyle.
Wisconsin, flagship of Rear Admiral Potter, Capt. Beatty.
Illinois, Capt. Bowyer.
Kentucky, Capt. Cowles.
Kearsage, Capt. Hutchins.
Maine, flagship of Rear Admiral Arnold, Capt. Caperton.
Idaho, Capt. Helm.
Mississippi, Capt. Fremont.
New Hampshire, Capt. Winslow.
North Carolina, Capt. Marshall.
Montana, Capt. Reynolds.
Salem, Commander Key.
Chester, Commander Wilson.
Birmingham, Capt. Walling.

In addition to the above there will be several auxiliary ships in the column that will pass in review, among them the supply ships Celtic and Culgoa, the tender Yankton, and the repair ship Panther.

Promptly at 11 a. m. the flagship Connecticut will lead the column of battleships past the Tail of the Horse shoe at the entrance to the Roads. The ships will steam in review past the president's yacht Mayflower, which will be anchored in exactly the same position she was when the fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Evans, started on its voyage around the world. Accompanying the president will be Secretary of the Navy Newberry, Admiral Dewey and many other navy representatives, members of congress, the diplomatic corps and other distinguished guests of the occasion. At 1:30 o'clock the fleet will be ready to drop anchor. One hour later Rear Admiral Sperry, his staff and the captains of the battleships will go aboard the Mayflower to pay their respects to President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Newberry. Monday night there will be brilliant social festivities at the Hotel Chamberlain at Old Point Comfort in honor of the officers of the returning fleet.

The great naval spectacle of Monday will be witnessed by hundreds of thousands, ashore and afloat. In anticipation of the event the hotels at Old Point Comfort, Newport News and other points in the vicinity already are filling with visitors. From the government pier at Fortress Monroe thousands will view the imposing spectacle. Steamers, launches and other craft of all descriptions will be pressed into service to carry the throngs who want to see the fleet at close range.

As the first vessel of the column enters the Roads the reverberating boom of cannon will speed thundering and echoing over the far-famed waters where nearly half a century ago the Monitor and the Merrimack met in the memorable conflict which brought into being the armored craft of war. For upwards of an hour the continuous roar of salutes will be kept up while the great fighting machines, in their gayest holiday dress, their sides manned with bluejackets at attention, steam past the president's yacht and take up their positions in the safe anchorage of the Roads. The spectacle is well calculated to form a fitting climax to the most remarkable trip ever recorded in naval annals.

A Common Cold.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being

Famous Park Street Church of Boston Preparing For Celebration of Next Week.

Special to the Herald.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—The famous old Park Street church is to celebrate its centennial next week, and the event promises to be one of the most notable of the year in religious circles. Some of the best known speakers among the clergy will take part in the celebration, which will extend over a period of several days. The Rev. Dr. A. Z. Conrad, the present pastor, will direct the observances and will be assisted by D. Chauncey Brewer and the Rev. Dr. Charles Parkhurst.

The Park Street church is one of the most famous in Boston. It dates back to 1809, and the stately structure at the junction of Tremont and Park streets is the best example remaining in the city of the early nineteenth century ecclesiastical architecture.

The history of the church is notable. It is marked as the edifice in which "America" was first publicly sung, on July 4, 1832. It was in this church that on July 4, 1829, William Lloyd Garrison, then not twenty-four years old, gave his first public address in Boston against slavery. In 1849 Charles Sumner delivered his great address on "The War System of Nations" at the annual convention of the American Peace Society, which that year began to hold its sessions in the Park Street church. The church remained the Peace Society's regular meeting place for a long pelaria. Quit the quinine and take a real cure—Ballard's Herbine. Contains no harmful drugs and is as certain as taxes. If it doesn't cure, you get your money back.

ried. The Park Street church was the first Trinitarian church established after the invasion of Unitarianism in the Puritan churches, and the fervor with which the unadulterated orthodox doctrine was preached by its earlier ministers made its pulpit famous and led to the bestowal upon the site the church occupies of the title of "Brimstone Corner."
